

East Arlington Betterment Ass'n Favors New Location For Branch Library There

At the April meeting of the East Arlington Betterment Association, the question of a new location for the branch library in that section of the town, was the chief topic of discussion. Frank Silva presided.

Paul C. Griffin, was appointed to head a committee which will meet with trustees of the library at their next meeting, for the purpose of making plans for a new location of the branch library in East Arlington, in accordance with the vote of the town meeting on March 23, at which time $2500 was appropriated for such a purpose.

The Association feels that the present location of the branch library, which is in the basement of the Crosby school is inadequate, and out of the way, especially for adults wishing to use the library at night, and that East Arlington residents are entitled to a more modern and centrally located library in that part of the town.

The object of the East Arlington Betterment Association is the encouragement and promotion of all civic betterment in the town, and especially in East Arlington. The Association meets the second Friday of each month at the Hardy school on Lake Street, and its membership is open to all men and women of voting age who are residents of Arlington.

Investigate Blaze

Chief Richard J. Tierney, of the Arlington fire department is of the opinion that the spectacular fire which destroyed the large barn on the Hutchinson farm at Appleton street, Arlington, was of incendiary origin. Two thousand wooden strawbery trays, valued at one dollar each, owned by the Harvey Produce Company, of Boston, which were stored in the barn were destroyed in the fire.

During April inspection don't be half safe-be officially safe-your sticker certifies you are driving in a vehicle mechanically fit-get your sticker today.

Ready To Start Work On St. James School

It looks as if St. James Parish will within a very short time be able to have work started on its new parochial school, which will be located in the resident B. district on Acton street, at the Heights. This is the fulfillment of a long cherished dream of St. James beloved pastor, Rev. Father O'Connor. The petition signed by Archbishop Cushing, is awaiting action of the Zoning Board of Appeals, and final approval of the work. The building is to be a modern sixteen room, two story structure, of brick construction, and will embody the very latest in modern school design and equipment.

Local Man Honored For War Heroism

The coveted Bronze Star medal has been awarded to Ernest F. Heaton, Jr., USAF, of 242 Broadway, Arlington, for meritorious service with the 379th fighter squadron in the European theatre of operations during World War II, it was announced on Monday by the air force.

Recently raised from the rank of staff sergeant, Warrant Officer (jg) Heaton, has now left Bermuda, where he is stationed at Kind-ley Field, for a visit to his home. The award is "for meritorious service in ground operations against the enemy." "Under the stress of every attack," the citation reads, "he displayed unusual qualities of leadership, and performed his duties in a most noteworthy manner, many times acting most efficiently as first sergeant of his organization. He was sergeant major at the time.

Grandmother Of Famous Player Dies

Mrs. Bridget Coleman (Mawn), grandmother of Joe Coleman, famous right hand pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, passed away on Monday at her home, 79 Scituate Street, Arlington, following a year's illness.

Funeral services were held from the D. W. Grannan funeral home, 378 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, on Thursday morning, with a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Agnes church at nine o'clock. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

Mrs. Coleman leaves one son, Patrick J., of Arlington, and one brother, Thomas Mawn, of Woburn. Also three grandchildren, Joe, Paul of Arlington and Mrs. Maurice Lazzazzero, of Waltham and one great grandson Joe, Junior.

BASEBALL CLINIC ATTRACTS MANY

Last Friday evening about one hundred adults attended the Park Department indoor Baseball Clinic at the Lowe Auditorium.

Leonard Collins explained over the microphone the proper way to play a position while Jim Cavaliere and Jim Power actually demonstrated the points explained by Mr. Collins.

The positions of pitcher, catcher and first baseman were explained as well as base running. Friday April 8th, 1949 in the Lowe Auditorium the clinic will again be held. The remaining positions on the team will be explained, as well as new rules in effect this year.

Many coaches of youth baseball teams were present. Jim Tunney local resident who formerly played for the New York Giants, was introduced to the audience during the clinic.

Recruiting Office Open Here Every Friday

Marine Sergeant Kenneth G. Abbott announces that his office in Robbins ouse in Arlington Center, in the Department of Veterans Services, is open every Friday, for the purpose of interviewing young men desirous of considering enlistment in the United States marine corps. The men must be between the ages of 17 and 29. Sgt. Abbott will be glad to answer questions, and has on hand at the office information relating to travel adventure and education and other facts concerning the famous Leathernecks.

The Sergeant himself is a veteran of six years service in the Marines, and served overseas for 27 months in the recent war, seeing service in the Marshall Island and Okinawa campaigns. He is a native of this town, moving to Somerville some years ago. His aunt, Mrs. William Hepburn, of 27 Asland street, Arlington, is wellknown here. The hours on Fridays will be from 10 a. m. to 4.30 p. m.

Red Cross Chairman McAvoy In Final Urge To Put Town Over Top Drive Lacks But $500 To Meet Total Quota Of $10,500

FIREMEN BUSY WITH BRUSH FIRES

Arlington firemen, responding to many alarms for brush and grass fires in widely separated parts of the towns, have been having the busiest time of the season. One of the worst was a woods fire in the Morningside Heights section, which threatened a number of homes on Hutchinson road, where a large tract was burned over.

Winner In Oratory

Hugh J. Mulligan, Jr., of 37 Hamlet street, the son of Hugh J. Mulligan of the Daily Record Circulation staff, won the recent annual contest for the sophomore class, at Boston College high school. He was the recipient of a gold medal, presented at appropriate ceremonies at the school. Hugh attended St. Agnes school, in Arlington.

In spite of the fact that the Town of Arlington lacks the sum of $500 to meet its total quota of $10,500 in the Red Cross drive which officially closed at the end of the week, Chairman McAvoy is still confident that the difference will be met promptly when the urgent need is made known to the Townspeople.

Chairman McAvoy is confident of the ultimate goal being reached because of the fact that a certain number of contributions have not been turned in, and also due to the absence of householders when the Red Cross solicitors called for their contribution, and also because many people were out of town and not available at the time the house to house collections were made.

Chairman McAvoy urgently requests that all those who care to donate to this worthy cause, do so before the end of the current week, in order that his final report may be as complete as possible, and maintain the excellent reputation which the Town of Arlington has always enjoyed as a leader in every campaign.

Chairman McAvoy takes this opportunity to thank all those, who contributed their time and effort to make the drive a success. His special thanks go to the hundreds of willing and conscientious workers through whose efforts the work of raising the necessary quota was made possible.

He urge those who wish to make contributions to leave same at the Red Cross headquarters, at the Old Town Hall, 629 Massachusetts Avenue, or send check to that address through the mail if they prefer.

Blood Donations Fall Short Of Desired Quota

The Red Cross bloodmobile which visited Arlington on Monday and Tuesday last, reports total of considerably less than the two hundred donor mark which was Arlington's quota, according to Dr. Richard J. Moran, the blood donor chairman.

The unit which set up its equipment at the parish house of St. Johns Episcopal church on Pleasant, from one until seven p. m., on both days, reports that on Monday, there were 59 donors and on Tuesday, 31 bring the total to 90 donors, and falling far short of the anticipated and desired quota of 200.

During both days, the Red Cross Canteen carried on an active campaign, serving a fine supper for all those attending. The motor corps groups were on hand and were kept busy doing errands and assisting in transportation of volunteers.

The next visit of the bloodmobile is scheduled for October 6 and 7, and it is hoped that in the interim the public may be brought to realize the great need for donations of blood from all public minded citizens. The work of preserving lives by the life-giving fluid, through the cooperation of each and every able citizen, should be brought to the serious consideration of all, as a valuable peace-time service of great importance to the community.

Brilliant New Yorker To Speak
Sunday At Community Church

'The Catholic Challenge' will be the subject of the address to be given by Dr. Paul Blanshard at the service of The Community Church of Boston in Jordan Hall Sunday, April 10th, at 10:30 a. m. Dr. Blanshard, ordained in the Congregational Ministry, has had a distinguished career as a public servant in New York City and Washington. Throughout the first LaGuardia administration he served as head of New York City's Department of Investigation and Accounts, and when he resigned as "the Conscience of New York City" in 1937. The New York Times in an editorial called his record in office "brilliant". During World War II he served from 1942 to 1946 as an official in the State Dept. and as United States adviser at three international conferences in the Caribbean area. Paul Blanshard has nine years university work and has been a member of the New York bar for more than 10 years. He was for about two years an associate editor of The Nation and served as its special correspondent in China and Italy. He is the author of 'Democracy and Empire in the Caribbean' (Macmillan) which Lewis Gannett described as "by far the most reflective and pungent book on the West Indies to appear in many years"; 'An Outline of the British Labor Movement' (Doran); 'Whats the Matter with New York' (Macmillan,
